

Track the forces that shape US-Indian relations

Project Title	Track the forces that shape US-Indian relations
Project Summary	U.S.-India relations are exploding! The number of travelers, the amount of trade and countless other ties are bringing the world's two largest democracies closer together. This project would identify and track major dialogues, meetings, and conferences related to our relationship.
Country	India
Agency	Department of State
DoS Office	SCA
Post	N/A
Section	N/A
Number of Interns	1

Project Description

This project would identify and summarize upcoming conferences, lectures and other meetings on the subject of U.S.-India relations. They might deal with relations as a whole or aspects such as economic ties, defense, immigration, cultural ties or history and may be held in the U.S., India or a third country.

The intern would work with the Public Affairs Section in U.S. Embassy Delhi to develop and prioritize a calendar for 2017-2019 of upcoming events with an eye towards U.S. government awareness and participation.

Good judgement would be essential to identify conferences that will help shape the relationship and influence key opinion makers. A general knowledge of the key think tanks, academics, journalists, current and former government officials and other influential individuals would be very helpful.
